/ TRAINER PROFILE

Trainer profile.

ATO-led delivery experience

Andrew Sills supports ATOs and corporate learning providers with PRINCE2 Project Management, PRINCE2 Agile, PRINCE2 Programme Management, IPMA Level D and client-specific project management delivery.

He works within the ATO's standards, agreed materials and client relationship boundaries. His focus is simple: prepared delivery, learner confidence, strong delegate feedback and consistent delivery for the ATO.

Accreditations

Andrew is a PeopleCert Accredited Trainer for PRINCE2 Project Management, PRINCE2 Agile and PRINCE2 Programme Management. He is also an IPMA Level D Trainer.

ATO background

Before working independently, Andrew delivered project management training for The Knowledge Academy and QA. This gave him first-hand experience of ATO delivery, structured courseware, delegate feedback expectations and representing the ATO professionally in front of clients and learners.

Delivery style

Andrew's delivery style is calm, structured and practical. He explains concepts in plain language, encourages discussion and helps delegates connect the course to their roles, projects and workplace challenges.

/ RELEVANT EXPERIENCE

Complex rollout and programme experience

Andrew brings practical delivery experience from project, finance and systems rollout environments.

01 /	Danish Refugee Council and Malaria Consortium	Financial systems training and capability support across EU-funded and humanitarian programmes in Iraq and South Sudan.
02 /	M-KOPA Solar, East Africa	Microsoft Dynamics 365 rollout across Kenya, Tanzania and Uganda, including training delivery.
03 /	QA and international certification delivery	PRINCE2, Agile, MSP, IPMA and client-specific project management delivery across corporate and international cohorts.

/ DELIVERY PROMISE

Andrew's delivery promise.

When Andrew Sills delivers for an Accredited Training Organisation, his role extends beyond course delivery. He represents the ATO, supports the learner experience and helps protect the reputation of the wider programme. His delivery promise is built around practical commitments that make associate delivery easier to manage.

01 / Pre-course support

Supports ATO-led sales calls and client conversations where useful, and helps explain the course, learning approach and programme value before delivery.

02 / Professional brand representation

Works within the ATO's standards, materials and client relationship boundaries, representing the ATO professionally in learner and client interactions.

03 / Learner availability

Makes himself available before and after scheduled training where learners need support, with reassurance and clarification that does not disrupt the ATO's delivery process.

04 / Confidence and revision support

Supports learners who need extra guidance, revision advice or reassurance before certification, and helps them understand their next steps after training.

05 / Progression conversations

Helps identify suitable next training options and feeds follow-on opportunities back to the ATO's team for discussion.

/ COMMERCIAL BOUNDARIES

Commercial boundaries and PRINCE2 Weekends

prince2weekends.com is Andrew's direct-to-learner website for self-funded individuals looking for weekend PRINCE2 training. It is kept separate from associate trainer delivery for ATOs.

When working with an ATO, he follows the ATO's materials, standards, booking process, client relationship boundaries and commercial arrangements.

He does not use ATO delivery to market directly to the ATO's clients, learners or delegates.

Where an ATO wants to offer weekend PRINCE2 delivery to its own learners, Andrew can support that delivery under the ATO's brand, booking process, courseware and commercial arrangements.

/ ATO DELIVERY

Delivery standards.

Practical standards that help ATOs protect delegate experience, client confidence and programme consistency.

Prepared delivery

Andrew familiarises himself with the ATO's materials, delivery expectations and learner context before the course begins.

Clear explanations

Complex project management concepts are explained in plain language, with examples delegates can use in their own work.

Practical facilitation

Sessions combine explanation, discussion, examples, practice questions and workplace application.

Learner confidence

Andrew creates a calm, structured environment where delegates feel able to ask questions and build confidence.

ATO alignment

Delivery respects the ATO's standards, materials, client relationships and wider programme expectations.

Post-course insight

Andrew can share useful observations after delivery to support learner experience, future cohorts and follow-on training needs.

/ COMMERCIAL TERMS

- / Rates are agreed by course, delivery mode, location, preparation requirements and engagement scope.
- / Day-rate and full-course pricing can be supplied after the requirement is shared.
- / For repeat cohort or trainer pool work, terms can be agreed in advance to make future bookings easier.

/ EXPERIENCE

Relevant sector experience and learner feedback.

Andrew has supported delegates across a broad range of sectors including government, healthcare, financial services, technology, engineering, professional services and education.

Healthcare / Financial services / Technology / Engineering / Professional services / Education / Public sector
